

Best Practice I

Title of the Practice:

Cleanliness and Green Campus

For the upkeep and enhancement of the college campus, Progati College, Agomani has a Green Campus Committee that started a garden and planting program that would offer a natural beauty and fresh atmosphere. The Green Campus Committee is responsible for implementing the cleanliness, greenery, sustainability, and natural environment policies that the IQAC of Progati College, Agomani, establishes after consulting with G.B.

Aims:

The goal of Progati College, Agomani Green Campus Policy is to "promote sustainable and eco-friendly practices through a clean and green campus".

Mission:

To raise awareness among people about the necessity of living a clean, healthy, and sustainable life in the future.

Objectives:

- i. To make everyone aware regarding the importance of hygienic life.
- ii. To raise awareness among employees and students about the need to reduce the consumption of goods and services that cause pollution.
- iii. To organize events, rallies, tree planting drives, field trips, educational tours, and other activities to raise awareness of environmental concerns.
- iv. To educate workers and students about the environment so they may speak out against dangerous activities that endanger it.
- v. Steps to be made in order to develop human morals and values through the implementation of a nature-awareness program.
- vi. To guarantee a plastic-free environment on college campuses.
- vii. Prohibiting the use of alcoholic beverages on college property.
- viii. To advertise on-campus gardens.
- ix. To ensure the use of LED bulbs and Tubes within the college campus.
- x. Awareness for controlling of sound pollution within the campus.
- xi. Proper management for dropping solid wastes.
- xii. Restriction on high polluted vehicles within the college campus.
- xiii. Use of Dustbin.

Implementation:

The following measures are taken for the implementation of Green Campus:

- (i) In front of the college building, the Green Campus Committee's policies are on display.
- (ii) The College appoints a person to see the matters of cleanliness whose remuneration is funded by the college.

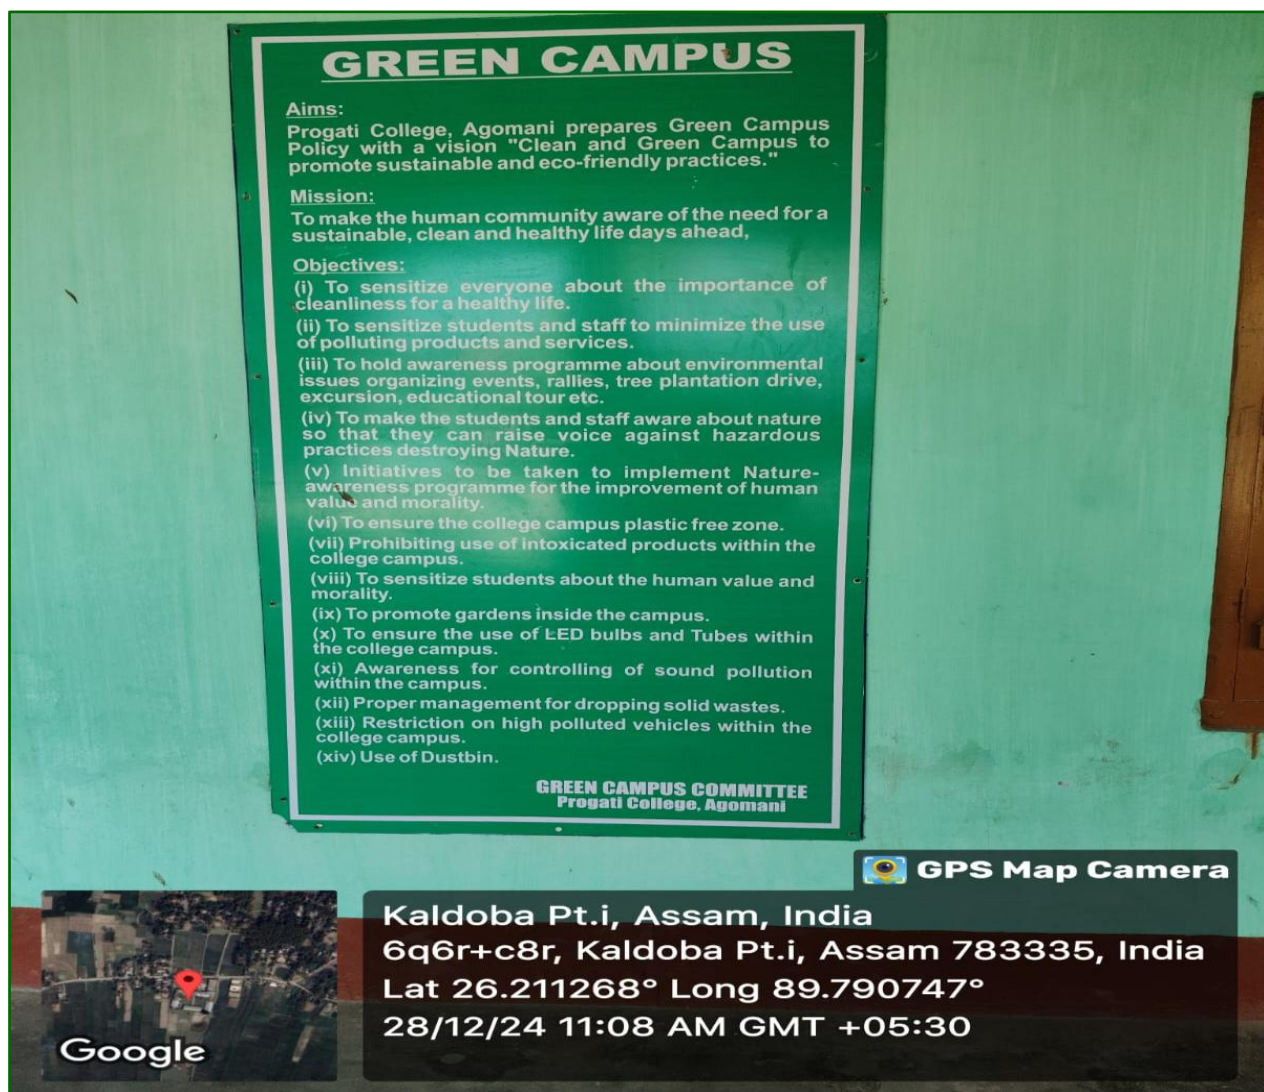

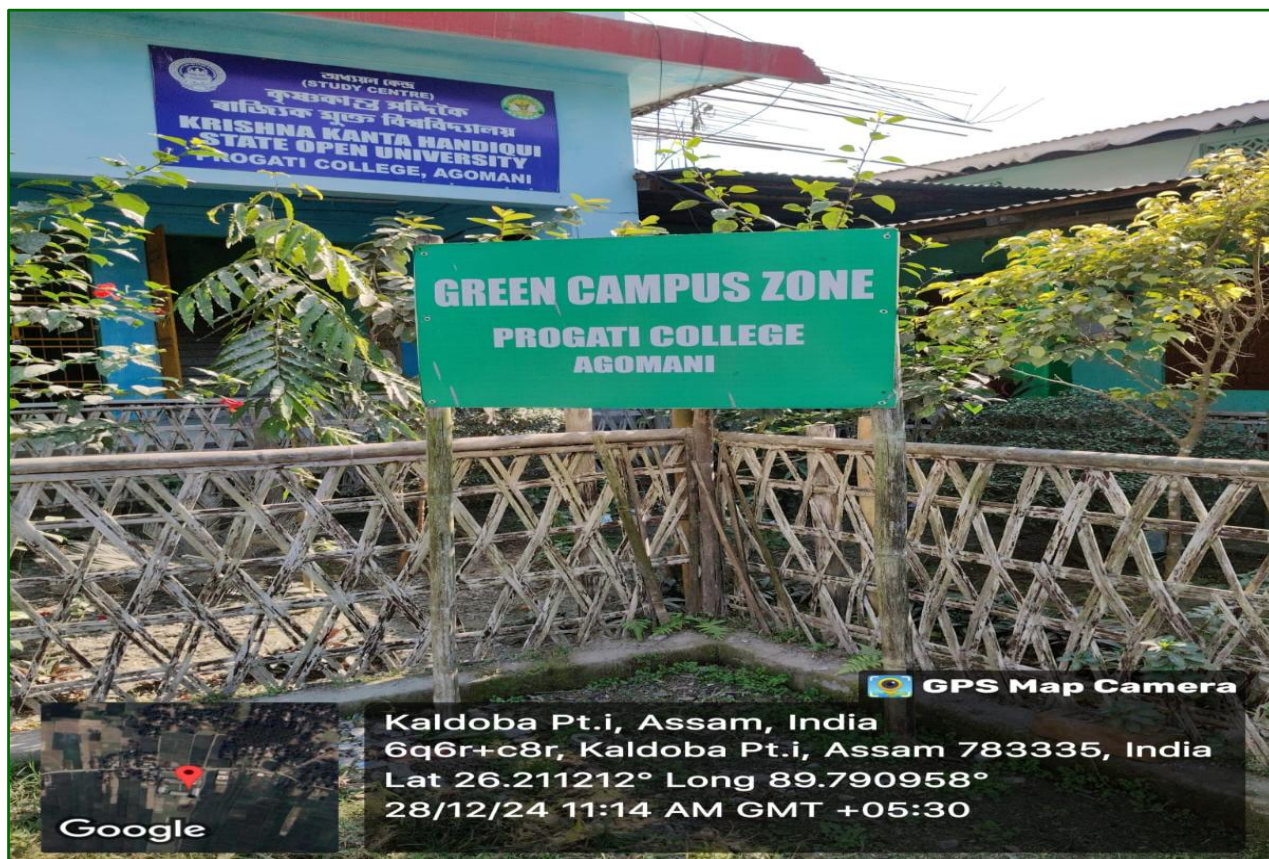

- (iii) The designated campus cleaner has been carrying out his responsibilities on a regular basis, which include keeping the restrooms, classrooms, and campus as a whole clean.
- (iv) The trash is guaranteed to fall in the designated spot in the college campus's corner.
- (v) Two solar lights are installed.
- (vi) Two drinking water filters with cooler of good quality are installed.
- (vii) Garbage dumps are arranged for wastages and garbage at the corner of the college campus.
- (viii) All significant days are commemorated to preserve and enhance the environment in an effort to raise awareness of nature among all people.
- (ix) Green environment planting is being done both on and off campus at the college.
- (x) The college administration proclaims the campus to be plastic-free.
- (xi) If students engage in any unlawful or immoral behavior, including ragging or gender discrimination, the administration will not tolerate it.
- (xii) The establishment and upkeep of a garden on the college campus are guaranteed.
- (xiii) There is a guaranteed water exit.
- (xiv) Vehicles with high pollution levels are subject to restrictions on college campuses.
- (xv) To guarantee a pollution-free environment, over 60% of students and employees go to college by public bus, electric car, bicycle, and non-polluting vehicles.

World Environment Day

5th June 2024

Observed by

Progati College, Agomani

www.progaticollege.org

Venue: College Campus

Date: 05-06-2024

World Environment Day is celebrated annually on 5th June and it is the United Nations' prime vehicle for inspiring awareness to protect the environment. "Only One Earth" is the slogan for the protection of Human Environment which is started by the UNO in the first conference in 1973. This largest global platform for environmental development has published a practical guide outlining some of the collective, transformative actions that governments, organizations, cities, institutions and individuals can take step to protect and restore our planet.

Keeping in the mind the global warming, shortage of Oxygen and increasement of Carbon-Dy-Oxide, the NSS unit and Extension Service Cell of this college has accomplished the World Environment Day with an action of plantation. In guidance of the teachers of this college a meeting is held in which the teachers makes an awareness about of the Air pollution, Soil pollution, Water pollution, Sound pollution and the need of plantation and preservation of trees. The NSS unit in co-operation with the Extension Service Cell and Green Campus Committee of IQAC, Progati College, Agomani has accomplished plantation drive in the village Kaldoba pt III which is adopted by the college and in the college premises. To make aware the community of the adopted village the college has done a rally in which the NSS volunteers have participated spontaneously.

The programme has been ended at 1.00 P.M. after having light food provided by the college.

Best Practice II

Title of the Practice:

Skill Enhancement in Literary Creativity of Students and Teachers

Progati College, Agomani is located in an educationally underdeveloped location where there is very little literary activity. Since the college is the sole institution offering higher education, it must play a part in encouraging students, instructors, and educated individuals to write about their thoughts, feelings, perspectives, experiences, and other things in order to enhance their literary quality and the intrinsic beauty of literature.

In order to reflect society and human values, the college has been publishing a number of publications, including an annual college magazine called "Progya," an annual wall magazine called "Jagaran," and an anthology of research books called "Progati". In these publications, students, faculty, alumni, and scholars from various spheres of society have been able to beautifully reflect their thoughts, views, feelings, experiences, etc., and express their true voices.

Aims:

- (i) Strives to significantly enhance the reading, writing, and literary proficiency of college instructors, students, and both.
- (ii) Offers chances for creative writing development.

Objectives:

- (i) Makes an effort to produce a book and magazine every year.
- (ii) Supports educators and students in developing their creative writing.
- (iii) Draws attention to the college's quality initiatives.
- (iv) Improves the quality of essays, short stories, poems, research papers, reports, and other types of writing.
- (v) Encourages students to develop their study habits and literary tastes.
- (vi) Gives instructors and students a range of ways to use their free time.

Management of Magazine:

- (i) The publication's whole process is maintained by the IQAC.
- (ii) The college is paying for the publication's expenses.
- (iii) Both educators and learners actively participate in the publication.
- (iv) The Students' Union gathers articles from students, instructors, and alumni under the direction of IQAC.
- (v) The Advisory Board assists the Editorial Board in choosing the articles.
- (vi) After being given to the students, the college magazines are posted on the website of the college.
- (vii) The Wall Magazine is prominently exhibited on the magazine board for public viewing.
- (viii) Only the authors of the articles receive access to the research volumes; some are also retained for students to peruse in the college library.
